Instructions of Taking the ALEKS PPL Assessment
～ Spring, Summer, Fall 2021～

■Create your ALEKS account:
- Go to www.aleks.com.
- Click "New Student? SIGN UP NOW!" in the Registered Users box.
- Follow the instructions in the handout of "ALEKS PPL Student Registration Instructions" to create your account.
  - -The 10-character Class Code is AFVKG-3NXUP.
  - -You need to pay the $25 fee to create an account online (credit card only.)
- Save your login name and password.

■Take a practice ALEKS Assessment:
- Log in to your ALEKS account at www.aleks.com.
- Click LUJ Math Placement, Spring, Summer, Fall 2021.
- Click Start to take an ALEKS PPL Assessment for practice.
  - -You can take the practice test up to two times, and it is highly recommended to take at least one practice test. (The second test can be an optional.)
- After finishing, a score and a pie chart of performance in various areas of math will be provided.
- Work with the ALEKS Prep and Learning Module to brush up on lost knowledge.

■Take the proctored ALEKS PPL Assessment on campus:
- Sign up for taking the ALEKS Assessment through Academic Affairs.
- Go to the test center (Location: TBA) to take the math placement test.
- Login in your ALEKS account in www.aleks.com.
- Click LUJ Math Placement, Spring, Summer, Fall 2021.
- Click Start to take an ALEKS PPL Assessment. It may take 2 hour to 2.5 hours to finish the test.
- Please let the proctor know your score when you finish the test.

You will be placed into a math class based on

ALEKS Score	Math Course
0% - 24%	GEN 102 Mathematics Workshop
25% – 45%	MAT 130 Intermediate Algebra
46% - 75%	MAT 162 Pre-Calculus MAT 210 Mathematics for Teachers MAT 220 Probability and Statistics MATP 221 Statistics for Psychology MAT 250 Discrete Mathematics
76% – 100%	MAT 231 Calculus I

Once the official score is received, you will not be able to take the lower level math courses.

(If your intended major requires taking a specific course, you may receive more information from Academic Affairs.)